The technology start-up aims to build a suite of products consisting of both hardware and software. Its target market is retail, e-commerce and financial services. It is now in startup phase. The business plan is written and received a first positive feedback. Next step: building a prototype and establishing a proof of concept.

Responsibilities

- Product design
- Designing a prototype and contributing towards establishing a proof of concept
- Setting up the supply chain (first contacts with suppliers)
- Determining cost of product
- Workload: 1-3 days/week until first round of funding or interest of major client (1-2 years)

Profile

- Electromechanical engineering: heat transfer, CAD, mechanical design
- Electronics and IoT

Offer

- Equity
- No salary until the company can afford it (first round of funding or interest of major client)
- Adventure
- An opportunity to build your own company